Birthday Is Celebrated—

A very pleasant time was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Inman, two and one-half miles below Grants Pass on Monday, the occasion being in honor of the 84th birthday of W. M. Hannum. There were about 30 present, including children, grandchildren and friends. A bountiful dinner was spread and in the center of the table reposed a large birthday cake, beautifully decorated with 84 tiny candles. After dinner numerous gifts were presented to Mr. Hannum, many of them being of such a nature as to bring joy to the aged man for a long time to come. On leaving everyone wished Mr. Hannum many more birthdays, each as happy as the one just celebrated.

DANCE OR GAMBLE WITH GOLD HILL

Either or both will be provided for the pleasure of those attending the Gold Hill dance this coming Saturday night. In response to the many requests for a revival of the "Days of Fifty-two," the Gold Hill club is again, and for the last time, presenting the third reproduction of an old-time mining camp in the days when miners flocked to the rich diggings of southern Oregon to make a "stake" and frequently to lose it quickly bucking a game of chance—when "easy come, easy go," was the by-word of the camp.

As Bret Harte pictured it in words, so will those present Saturday evening see and feel the thrill of wooing the Goddess of chance. Indications point to a large crowd and a million in money has been provided to safeguard the management against breaking the bank at any of the gambling games. Whether your inclinations favor roulette, poker, faro, Paris mutuels, twenty-one, three-card monte or craps, or turns towards the dance hall with its good floor and good music, or whether you wish to "tilt your poke of dust on the bar and call for drinks for the house," you will be guaranteed satisfaction in full. If luck is with you, a dime need be your only expenditure for as many dances, as many drinks, as much food, and all the gambling thrills you desire. 839
